LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

The summer driving season has arrived! I know summer is actually a few weeks off, but after the extended winter, the warm weather is very welcome. To kick off the drives season we had an impromptu drive on May 27th.

Dave Kirkman lead us on a very scenic drive to Henderson Mountain. Even with this short notice we had 12 or 13 cars. I was very happy to see Carolyn Sikes out driving her newer model XKR. Way to go Carolyn!. My son-in-law commented on your spirited driving. Of course, you were following Dave. This was one drive I hope we will repeat in future years.

The show season will kick off with the British Motorcar Day, held this year along with the Peachtree Corners Festival, in Peachtree Corners. See map in this issue or go to: <http://www.atlantabritishmotorcarday.org/>

British Motorcar Day is just the start of a great line up for the summer.

Don't forget to sign up for the Jaguar and Friends Picnic June 16th and invite a friend. A map to John Yates's house (our host) is in this issue. They have a pool for any of you who are so inclined. The sign up is in last month's newsletter, available at our website www.ngjc.us.

Harry and Meghan's blue Jaguar is a $500,000 green machine

By Gary Gastelu Fox News

Prince Harry used an old, new, borrowed, blue and very green car to drive his new bride, Meghan Markle to their wedding reception.

The sleek convertible that the Duke and Duchess of Sussex made their grand getaway in was a Jaguar E-Type Concept Zero, which is a modern, electrified version of the 1968 classic built by the automaker.

The Sun reports that they rented the left-hand-drive car for the event, but Jaguar will be happy to build and sell you one just like it for around $500,000.

It's powered by a 300 hp electric motor under its legendarily long hood, and is quicker than the six-cylinder original. Jaguar says it can hit a top speed of 150 mph and go 170 miles between charges.

It won't be the only battery-powered car in Jaguar's lineup for long. The company is launching the $70,000 I-Pace electric SUV later this year.

Tim Hannig, Director, Jaguar Land Rover Classic, said: "E-type Zero combines the renowned E-type dynamic experience with enhanced performance through electrification. This unique combination creates a breathtaking driving sensation."

Wolf Mountain Vineyards & Winery Drive and lunch July 21st, 2018

Get set for one of our most popular destination drives. Karl Boegner will accommodate us once again in a private dining room (building) for his buffet BBQ lunch. Karl will also try to set aside a private parking area for our cars.

When talking to Karl he also thought he may have a few new German cars to show us. Therefore, we will get there around 11:30 A.M. to tour his various onsite garages.

The lunch will be $20.00 per person and he will make available wine by the glass at a discount. Please try to have cash available, as the building is separate from the main building and does not have a point of sale system for credit cards.

We will meet at the Kroger parking lot (behind Wendy's) at Highway 19/400 and Highway 53 around 9:30 A.M. for a 10:00 A.M. departure. Please RSVP John Hoffman 2jhoffs@att.net or 770-992-2856. By July 15, 2018.

The Carolina Jaguar Club annual Concours is July 12-14th at Little Switzerland, NC. If you haven't attended this event in the past, you should put it on your schedule. The scenery is beautiful, the Concours has some great cars and the social atmosphere is wonderful. The registration form is available at:

<https://carolinajaguarclub.com/event/2018-concours-little-switzerland/>

Wolf Mountain Winery is July 21st, see article in this issue. This is always a very popular event.

Don't forget the NGJC Annual Concours is coming up in October. The registration will be open online beginning the middle of June. We have decided to have a Southern BBQ on Saturday night for our out-of-town guests and any members who want to attend. Stay tuned for details.

I recently read an article about the closing of several car museums throughout the U.S. The Linq Hotel & Casino 125,000 square foot car museum closed after 40 years and the Fiat Chrysler museum outside Detroit was turned into office space. A recent quote sums it up pretty well:

"Perhaps there's a limit to how many auto museums there can be," said Matt Anderson, a curator at the Henry Ford Museum of American Innovation in Dearborn, Mich., and the president of the National Association of Automobile Museums. His members worry about declining attendance. "They're struggling with this realization that younger folks aren't into cars the way their parents and grandparents were."

Let's keep them on the road.

Can You Identify This Leaper? Year & Model?

Submitted by John Hoffman

The officers of your club get emails with various request throughout the year. This is one of the more interesting received.

“Hi my name is (blank), I am not a member of the NGJC but I do live in North Georgia. I have a question for you regarding a hood ornament I found while cleaning out my grandparents basement. It was wrapped in an old soft cloth and I was curious if maybe you could tell me by looking at it what model and year car it came off of. I know it's a shot in the dark but I figured it's worth a try. Anything you could tell me about it would be greatly appreciated.”

Have some fun with this and send me your answers:

Harry and Meghan's blue Jaguar

By Gary Gastelu Fox News

Our aim with E-type Zero is to future-proof classic car ownership. We're looking forward to the reaction of our clients as we investigate bringing this concept to market.

We have integrated the new electric powertrain into the existing E-type structure, which means a conventional engine could be reinstalled at any point. We think this is essential as it ensures a period Jaguar remains authentic to its DNA.

We could use this technology to transform any classic XK-engine Jaguar.
